This most brilliant affair of the Coondal club is to be a fancy dress ball, you see, and in this case things may not be what they seem.

The handsome cubbouse has been arisitically decorated in pulms, flags, hatchets, sprigs from the famous charry tree and other George Washington decorations for the occasion.

This affair is destined to be one of the largest social events of the club for the year, prior to the gay social season which will start after Easter.

A number of reservations for attractive partites have been arranged among which will be the following.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Waddington, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Sam F. McDonald and Lieut. Floyd McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Smart, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hyde and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. GODOWSKY TO PLAY SATURDAY, MARCH 1

Leopold Godowsky, who has been called by some the "superman among planists," will make his initial appearance in Memphis at the Goodwyn Institute at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, March I, under the auspices of the Memphis Musical bureau, Mrs. Jason Walker, manager. The announcement some months ago that he would be here aroused keen interest among all who enjoy plano music, and the event bids fair to attract a capacity audience, as many are coming from the surrounding territory. Godowsky was been in Wilna, in Russian Poland, Feb. 13, 1870. He showed an extraordinary aptitude for musia, making his first public appearance at the age of nine in his native town. Four years later found the youth enrolled at the Berlin-Hochschule, but only for a short period. At the age of 14 the young planist left for America, where he toured in concerts. In 1886 he returned to Europe to fulfill his greatest ambition, that of becoming a student under Liszt.

This ambition was never realized, however, the famous composer, planist and pedagogue had passed away. His disappointment was somewhat amelior ated less than a year later by an introduction to Saint Saens, who, after hearing the boy play several of his own compositions, immediately manifested the most enthusiastic interest in him.
